HEALANI MASQUERADE.

Tickets Free for Ladies but Every-body Must Have Tickets.

The arrangements for the Masquerade at the Healani boat house next Friday night are progressing favorably. A number of ladies are planning to go in parties without escorts, but they are requested to obtain tickets from one of the committees—W. E. Wall, C. B. Gray or F. B. Oat. Tickets for ladies are complimentary, no charge, to present at the door. Gentlemen can purchase tickets from the same committee. It is intended that all attending must present tickets at the door, as no coin will be accepted. Maskers will have to be identified before entering the building. The lady and gentleman that take the most interest in costume and character will not regret their trouble. Plenty of accommodation for all, masked and unmasked. Everything is being done to make the affair a success. Grand march at 8 o'clock.

Resignation of Dr. Cruzan.

The Rev. John A. Cruzan, D.D., is no longer pastor of the Olivet Congregational Church. He tendered his resignation to the Board of Deacons on Saturday last. On Sunday morning, at the close of the service, a business meeting of the congregation was called and the resignation accepted. A unanimous call was extended to the Rev. H. T. Sheppard. Mr. Sheppard decided to become the pastor. Dr. Cruzan has retired from the Olivet Church in order to devote his attention to "The Pacific," the Congregational organ of this Coast. Mr. Sheppard was a classmate of the Rev. William Rader at Andover Theological Seminary. They graduated from that institution in 1891.—Examiner.

MARKET ACCESSION GROUND.

Statement of Receipts and Expenditures for Improvement.

The amount required for preparing a cricket pitch on the Maiki recreation ground, with other improvements, was $60. Thus far $29.50 has been collected as follows: Honolulu Cricket Club members, $15; F. Whitney, Frank Spencer, W. T. Monsarrat, L. B. Kerr, W. G. Ashley, E. D. Tenney, J. B. Atherton, G. P. Castle, W. A. Bowen, $1 each; W. W. Hall, Chas. Girdler, D. F. Thrum, J. W. Winter, W. O. Lackland, M. M. Scott, J. A. Gilman, T. E. Wall, H. Armitage, C. B. Gray, E. O. White, 50 cents each.

Thus far the committee has expended $49 as follows: Labor, $41.50; water, $2.50; tools, express hire, repairs hose, etc., $5. The committee consists of A. M. Hewett, W. Thompson and H. Herbert. Excellent work has been done on the ground, and anyone willing to make up the small balance, in which the fund is still deficient, can find Mr. Hewett at W. S. Luce's auction rooms.

DAVITT ON HAWAII.

The Irish Leader Favors Annexation by the United States.

Chicago, April 7.—Michael Davitt, the Irish leader, who is in Chicago on his way to California, said in an interview to-day: "I think the conduct of this country in the matter of the Hawaiian islands has been most reprehensible. It should by all means annex the islands. The people with the exception of the Japanese part of the population desire it, and it is shameful that it has not been done. There are three Japanese weekly papers in Honolulu, all of which are constantly urging the islanders to put themselves under the protection of Japan."

Davitt and his family will start for California to-morrow. He will return to London in about three weeks, leaving his family at his wife's old home on the Pacific Coast. In an interview Mr. Davitt declared John Dillon the greatest leader Ireland has ever had.

Each Piece a Leader.

When Mr. Silva of the Temple of Fashion decided to close out his business he came to the determination that the only way to do it quickly was to offer a discount on the first cost. After considerable figuring he came to the conclusion that he could afford to dispose of the entire stock at a discount of 25 per cent on the actual cost. This makes every piece of goods a leader. All goods are marked in plain figures and you have an immense stock to select from. Don't be misled, for Mr. Silva is holding the only genuine closing out sale. Intending to permanently retire from business he can well afford to sell below cost.

Morrow is Missing.

Frank Lillis, the hackman, was arrested last night on the charge of being a gross cheat. The arrest was in consequence of a raid made by the police on his premises, where a quantity of molasses and poi was found in opium tins. W. P. Morrow is also wanted by the police, being implicated with Lillis. The men are supposed by the police to have been manufacturing fictitious opium for fraudulent purposes. Although several officers have been looking for Morrow all day they have not yet located him.

Captain Holer, late mate of the German ship H. F. Glade, has been appointed master of the bark J. C. Pfluger, vice Captain Fangmeyer. The Glade arrived at Cork from San Francisco and thence went to Bremen, where her 'tween decks are being fitted to accommodate 250 passengers.

IN THE HIGHER COURTS

QUESTION OF JURISDICTION SETTLED BY SUPREME COURT.

Answer in a Matter of the Hog Trade—Nonsuit of an Assignee's Cause.

Judge Perry rendered an oral decision granting a nonsuit in the case of J. F. Colburn, assignee of H. F. Poor, vs. California Feed Co. An appeal was noted by plaintiff.

The Hawaiian Pork and Packing Co. by its attorneys, Magoon & Edings, answers the complaint of E. C. Winston, saying that the plaintiff supplied the company, defendant, with 235 diseased hogs that died, which were worth $1754.86 at the value claimed by plaintiff, also that the freight and expenses on the diseased hogs, together with sacrifice of sound ones on their account, amounted to large sums which are stated—a total of $1141.07—and besides the plaintiff received back the carcasses of the hogs that died, and tried hard and grease out of them to the value of $235.

Judge Whiting is author of a unanimous decision of the Supreme Court, Justice Frear and Circuit Judge Carter, substitute, sitting with him, on an appeal from a decision of Chief Justice Judd upon a matter of commissions in the Bishop Estate's annual accounts. It is decided that under the Judiciary Court no appeal lies from a Justice of the Supreme Court to that Court. Also, that the Chief Justice had no jurisdiction in the matter wherein this appeal case arose. Neither the Supreme Court nor a Justice thereof at chambers has original jurisdiction in probate and equity. Kinney & Ballou for appellant.

Henry Smith, master, has filed his report on the accounts of Estate of H. A. P. Carter. The receipts as reported were $72,479.70, and payments $71,763.21, and the master makes slight corrections of statements and commissions.

Judge Perry on hearing took assumption case of Henry Haka vs. Waialeale under advisement. Kane for plaintiff; Magoon for defendant.

The petition of Theo. C. Porter and E. D. Tenney, administrators of the estate of the late M. Goldberg, for approval of accounts and discharge was heard and taken under advisement by Judge Perry.

S. K. Aki, administrator of the estate of Pilipo Kakimilo, petitions for leave to sell real estate.

BLANCHE BATES' NEW CLOTHES.

Twelve Hundred Dollars for One Little Opera Cloak.

A cable message was received by the Columbia Theater management recently announcing that Mr. Frawley had left London for New York.

A letter was also received from Blanche Bates in which she rapturously described her first impression of Paris. She was so carried away with the excitement of Paris that she purchased an opera cloak costing $1200 to further charm her sisters of this hemisphere. She invested in other clothes to the extent of $4000.

Mr. Friedlander asserts that the Frawley Company reorganized for the season of 1897 will be the leading dramatic organization of America.

Tom Walker's Case.

No charge has yet been made against Tom Walker, who shot at John Emmeluth last Saturday. Walker is still in jail and will remain there until his preliminary examination. He is still in a nervous and excitable condition. Marshal Brown said at noon to-day that Walker would be charged with assault with intent to commit murder. There will be no trial in the lower court, only a preliminary hearing, which will probably come off to-morrow.

LASSOED BY HIGHWAYMEN

THE VICTIM ESCAPES WITH NECK AND MONEY WHOLE.

Justice Beneath a Greenwood Tree—Deputation to Dedication—Suicide of Ex-Judge Daniels.

LAHAINA, April 17, 1897.—The day was very oppressive in the heat and dustiness of Lahaina's ancient town. Justice was to be administered and there stood the courthouse in the glare of the midday sun while the magistrate looked—looked and felt—and deeply pondered, and this is what he saw: Without, and not far away a banyan tree, a truly magnificent giant, shedding a grateful shade around. And then he felt its shade essential to his peace of mind, for he was sitting beneath its shadow. And had he not read of justice being administered under the shade of forest trees—in that case the jury sat on logs. Would not justice be more tempered with mercy if his Honor was cool and undistressed by stress of weather? His Honor thought it was so, and decided to render his decision on the spot. Prisoner, officers, interpreters, witnesses and barristers were summoned to his presence and the case proceeded, with all formality. What matter if a few, seated where sunrays broke through the leaves, wore their hats on their heads! What matter! Was not justice done? What place more fit than a court of nature's providing under the banyan's waving branches? All were pleased with this "natural" departure from uncomfortable custom—all except probably the prisoner whom his honor sentenced to two months at hard labor. It was remarked that the prisoner took his sentence "coolly," under the shade of the banyan tree.

On Friday night a Japanese storekeeper was waylaid by highwaymen on a lonely portion of the road between Lahaina and Kaanapali. He was returning from the latter place, where he had gone in a wagon to collect money owing to him by plantation laborers; they having been paid off that day. He was attacked suddenly from behind in a novel manner. The men crept quietly up from behind and lassoed him around the neck, pulling him off the cart. They then proceeded to search him. His violent struggles rendered it not an easy job. Failing to find anything the men were released. Jumping into his wagon he whipped up his horse and drove to Lahaina, about two miles away. He fell unconscious when he reached home and it was some time before he could relate what had occurred. The man, Yagi by name, had at the time of the attempted robbery eighty dollars, tied in a handkerchief around his neck, and he is now complimenting himself on his lucky escape of a serious loss and a broken neck. He has not yet recovered from the effects of his rough treatment, and so far has failed to identify those who made the assault. The fact of the lasso being used would indicate they were native Hawaiians. The sheriff is now investigating the matter.

Among the arrivals in town are the Revs. Dr. Hyde, Dr. S. E. Bishop and S. L. Desha, Prof. Alexander, D. D. Baldwin and others. They come to attend the church ceremonies.

Word has just reached here by telephone that W. H. Daniels, formerly Judge Daniels of Wailuku, committed suicide at 6 o'clock this evening, the 17th, by shooting himself with a revolver. No cause is as yet assigned for the act.

City Carriage Co., J. S. Andrade, manager. If you want a hack with good horse and careful driver ring up Telephone 113, corner of Fort and Merchant streets. Back at all hours.

FRESH AMERICAN NOTES

DEATH OF A FORMER OFFICIAL OF HAWAII.

Trial Trip of Battleship Iowa—Some Late Elections—Items in Sugar Trade.

There is great activity on the part of the sugar trust to import large quantities of sugar before the enactment of the Dingley bill.

The new battleship Iowa did a trifle better than the Oregon on her trial trip, says the San Francisco Chronicle. Her maximum speed was 17.41, while that of her Western sister was 17.34. We do not know what effect difference in coal may have had on these records, but the Iowa nevertheless gets the broom. All Americans will be proud of both vessels, which so far stand unmatched among foreign war ships of the same class.

General Dyer, Republican, has been elected Governor of Rhode Island by a plurality of more than 10,000 votes.

Miners in Alaska are threatened with starvation. Flour is $1 a pound at the diggings.

Carter H. Harrison, Democrat, has been elected Mayor of Chicago. His father was murdered a few years ago while holding the same office.

After William J. Bryan had ended an address to a crowd of 3000 people at St. Augustine, Florida, April 8, there was a rush to tender him greetings. The piazza on which he was standing gave way, forty feet of its length falling to the ground. Among a score of persons hurt, the silver orator himself was picked up unconscious. His injuries were not serious.

Among presidential nominations confirmed by the Senate are these naval promotions: Captain H. L. Howison, to be Commodore, Commander C. D. Sigbee, to be Captain; Lieutenant-Commander E. C. Pendleton, to be Commander.

Rev. Alfred W. Martin, pastor of the First Free Church at Tacoma, is at swordpoints with the Ladies Musical Club of that city because they refused to admit a colored lady as a member. Some time ago he refused to lecture for the club on that account, and now the fight is out in the open.

A Salem, Mass., dispatch of April 8 says: Stephen Henry Phillips, formerly State Attorney-General and at one time Consul to Hawaii, and later adviser to the King of Hawaii, died at his home today, aged 74 years.

A late S. F. Chronicle says: On account of the large number of vessels arriving from Honolulu with sugar the refinery is overstocked, as it has just started up. Several of the vessels are about to follow the lead of the barkentine S. C. Allen, which has gone alongside of Mission rock for safe mooring, as it will probably be three weeks before she can discharge her cargo.

A Washington dispatch of April 6 says that Rear Admirals Bance and Beardslee, respectively commanding the North Atlantic and the North Pacific stations, are to be relieved, and present indications are that Commodores Montgomery Sicard and George Dewey will succeed them.

Andrew J. Garvey, one of the Tammany ring thieves, died at Southampton, England, April 5. When the ring was prosecuted he gained his liberty by turning informer, and retired to England with his stolen wealth.

The death is announced of Hon. Stephen H. Phillips, a former Attorney-General of Hawaii. In 1866 he accepted an offer from Kamehameha V. to leave Massachusetts and become Attorney-General of the islands. After the Legislature of 1872, in which J. O. Carter was a member, he resigned and returned to Massachusetts.
